"Tec de Monterrey" An association that generates new leaders

The Percussive Arts Society is the world's largest percussion organization and is considered the central source for information and networking for percussionists and drummers of all ages.

They created an agreement with our organization in order to carry out projects carried out by students in the engineering area, which will serve to establish new computer technologies in our percussion educational plans. And after the successful video game "Taiko", we hope that we can contact other universities that help PAS to develop new technologies, and clearly define new objectives.
